Description of Change: The reel quantity is increasing for IHLP and IHLG inductors in the case sizes defined. New reel quantity products will be designated using the "EK" packaging code instead of the old "ER" code. Vishay strongly encourages the customer to transition to the new package code as quickly as possible. On the customer end, this change will generate time and cost savings by minimizing reel changeovers and streamlining production line in addition to helping reduce packaging waste, save floor space, and minimize environmental impact and carbon footprint.

Timeline: Starting date for shipments using the new packaging can begin immediately. The original packaging will be phased out over the next 1 to 2 years.

*See page 7 for list of affected part numbers and conversion guide to new EK part

What changes:

- Part Number (will use new "EK" package code instead of "ER")
- Part quantity per reel will increase by at least 1.2x (up to 3x for certain package sizes)

What does NOT change

- Carrier tape pitch
- Tape width, reel dimensions and other relevant carrier tape and reel parameters

Note: Certain IHLP variants such as the IHLG (gold plate terminal) devices and wide-terminal IHLP505WFD devices are also affected.

Reason for Change: Reduce packaging waste, save floor space, minimize environmental impact and carbon footprint, streamline production line, and minimize reel changeovers in production

Expected Influence on Quality/Reliability/Performance: N/A

Part Numbers/Series/Families Affected: Please see materials list on the succeeding page.
